

2023 Esther Pohl Lovejoy M.D. Leadership Award Nomination Form

Established in 2008, this award honors Esther Pohl Lovejoy, M.D., an 1894 graduate of the OHSU School of Medicine. Dr. Lovejoy took an active and significant role in public health reform, suffrage, and politics in early twentieth century Portland. Lessons she learned in Oregon became the foundation for her subsequent career in transnational medical relief and international health. This award honors alumni who received a degree or certificate or who are graduates of a training program from the OHSU School of Medicine.

Entries will be evaluated on the following criteria:

- Demonstrated and exceptional leadership and service to the medical profession on a national or international level.
- Systemic improvement in health outcomes.
- The development of programs, people or policies that have the potential, over time, to leverage sustained improvement in human health.

OHSU and community members are encouraged to submit nominations, which are reviewed and selected by the OHSU School of Medicine Alumni Association's Awards Workgroup and endorsed by the School of Medicine Alumni Council. Nominations remain active for three years.
